

GRAND CIRCUIT GIVES THRILLERS

New Records Are Set Up by the High-Steppers on Pittsburgh Track.

Pittsburgh, Pa., August 8.—The final in the professional drivers' stake, 2:15 trot and the free-for-all trot championship furnished the thrillers for the fourth day of the Pittsburgh meet on the grand circuit. Billy Burke, the horse that made the season's track record at Cleveland on August 1, stepping in 2:04 1/4, was the center of comment and admiration, with Eddie Archdale, one of the Geers string, sharing the honors.

Billy Burke took the two heats of this race, and incidentally another son of Silent Brook won another race on today's card, the 2:12 trot, which Shaw Day took easily.

In the free-for-all, Billy Burke also set new records for this track in both heats. On a heavy spongy track, he went the first heat in 2:06, and the second, 2:04 1/4, stepping the quarter in the second heat in 31.

In the professional drivers' stake, Queen Worthy was picked to win and did have things her own way after a bad start in the first heat.

In the second race was coming strong in the stretch, McDonald driving hard on his wheel. That was down the stretch Queen Worthy quit cold and almost stopped still. In the meantime, Carpenter, with Annie Kohl, was coming through the field on the pole and romped home.

In the next heat Annie Kohl got the lead at the start and held it to the finish. Summaries:

2:03 class—pacing, purse $1,000.—Habe, br. c. first, Edward B., b. c. second; Forest Prince, b. c. third. Heat time, 2:06 1-2.

Professional drivers' stake, final 2:15 class—trotting, two in three, total value $5,643.—Annie Kohl, blk. m. first; Queen Worthy, b. m. second; Ruth McGregor, ch. m. third. Best time, 2:07 1-2.

Trotting championship—free-for-all trot, purse $2,500.—Billy Burke, br. c. first, Eddie Archdale, blk. m. second; Hall Worthy, b. c. third. Best time, 2:04 1-4.

2:12 class trotting—three in five, purse $1,000.—Shaw Day, b. c. first, Derby Boy, b. c. second; Cass Dome, b. c. third. Best time 2:07 1-4.

ROANOKE COMPANY LANDS CONTRACT

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Salisbury, N. C., August 8.—The largest contract let in this part of the State for a long while was given yesterday to J. H. Sands & Co., of Roanoke, for digging the big canal at White's dam. The contract, which was awarded to the Roanoke company, which bought the hydro-electric plant several months ago. Another big contract was let by the same concern to H. B. Hardaway, of Columbus, Ga., for completing the mammoth stone dam on the Yadkin River, where the 10,000-horse power plant is being developed. It is stated the two contracts amount to $750,000, and that it will require nine months to do the work. More than 700 men will be put to work at once, and the sinking of the canal will be pushed. The work of building the dam, as well as that of running the canal, was started five years ago by the Whitney Reduction Company, which stranded in the panic of 1907. Since that time work on the big plant has been at a standstill. It is expected the new development will be used in the manufacture of the aluminum products of the French concern operating the plant.

Jolliffe-Shank.

Millwood, August 8.—Emmanuel Chapel Boyce was the scene of a very pretty wedding yesterday evening, when Miss Emma Shank, daughter of F. S. Shank, became the bride of Thomas Powell Jolliffe. The ceremony was performed by Rev. J. M. Robeson, Christ Church, Millwood. The bride was given away by her father. The ushers were Joseph Jolliffe and Frank Shank. Miss Jane Moore of Berryville, presided at the organ.

GLASS WINS AGAIN IN SIXTH DISTRICT

He would split the Lynchburg vote evenly with Glass, but the Glass plurality over him there is above 500.

Little interest was taken in the result outside of Lynchburg. The vote in Roanoke city is 500 below the normal for a primary, and at many county precincts the total vote ranged from five to twelve. Glass beat Tillett in Roanoke County. Tillett carried Floyd County over Glass by 233 majority in a total vote for all three candidates of 316, but Glass carried Montgomery over Tillett by 184.

Glass carried Lynchburg city, Campbell, Bedford, Roanoke and Montgomery Counties, and Tillett carried Floyd County and Roanoke city. The campaign was quiet and listless and the gunshots and hand-shaking style.

Sergeant Tillett made no speeches, but depended strictly on personal work. Mr. Glass and Mr. Halsey made a few speeches, but there was no fight. No issues were developed. The Anti-Social League addressed a list of questions to the candidates, but all the answers about in the same way and the liquor question was not a factor.

Tillett Carries Roanoke City. (Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Roanoke, August 8.—Returns from Floyd and Roanoke Counties and Roanoke city in today's Sixth District congressional primary gave T. H. Tillett of Roanoke, a plurality of about 100. This was overshadowed by Glass's large majorities in Lynchburg, Bedford and Campbell Counties, and Glass's nomination is conceded in Roanoke city the total vote amounted to 1,936; Tillett, 1,058; Glass, 776, and Halsey, 102. Complete returns from Montgomery and Montgomery Counties have not been received. Little interest was displayed in today's election, and the small plurality given Tillett in the city came as a great surprise.

Full Opposition Polled.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) East Radford, Va., August 8.—The primary passed quietly. While the full opposition to Glass appears to have been polled, and was slightly larger than expected, the glass strength suffered some from the excretion which took his votes to Roanoke. This apparent indifference was attributed to overconfidence. The result follows:

West Radford—Qualified voters, 58; Glass, 70; Tillett, 6; Halsey, 6. Total, 82.

East Radford—Qualified voters, 134; Glass, 54; Tillett, 3; Halsey, 25. Total, 100.

Glass Victory in Bedford.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Bedford City, Va., August 8.—The Democratic primary held here today to select a candidate for Congress from the Sixth District resulted as follows: Glass, 240; Tillett, 14; Halsey, 13. The county precincts have not been heard from, but Glass probably will carry the county by three to one.

Result in Blacksburg.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.) Blacksburg, Va., August 8.—In the congressional primary today, Blacksburg gave Glass, 82; Halsey, 53; Tillett, 13.

LAMB CONFIDENT OF RENOMINATION

Congressman Declares Only Question Now Is One of Majority.

(Special to The Times-Dispatch.)

Washington, August 8.—"I will carry every county in the district and expect to receive a majority of votes in the city of Richmond. It is now only a question of the size of the majority, according to what my friends tell me."

"This was the way Captain John Lamb sized up the political situation in the Third District here today just before taking the train for Richmond. Captain Lamb reached Washington at 9 o'clock this morning, immediately got in touch with Chairman Fitzgerald, of the House Committee on Appropriations, and within a few minutes after the House met had secured the adoption of the conference report on the agricultural appropriation bill, which ends the work on this bill for the year.

"Everything looks bright," Captain Lamb said, "and I shall continue my speeches up to the time of the primary. There is no question now as to my renomination." P. H. M.

EVIDENCE PLACED BEFORE WHITMAN BY ROCKEFELLER

employees in the household of "Jack" Rose, who, it is understood, testified that Becker had called at Rose's house practically every day for six months previous to the murder. They were unable to corroborate, it is said, Rose's statement that they had seen him pay Becker cash, which he said he collected for the police lieutenant from gambling houses.

Another witness was Giovanni Stanich, a citizen who saw the murder, and who is regarded by the prosecution as one of the most important of all the witnesses thus far subpoenaed. It was said that his testimony was of such a nature as to assure the district attorney that he had a strong case against the four men charged with being the actual murderers, "Gib the Blood" and his crew.

It is expected that the grand jury will hand down indictments in the murder case when it meets next Tuesday. Although the district attorney will seek the indictment of certain high police officials for extortion, it is likely to be several weeks before this phase of the investigation reaches its climax.

Formal Call Issued.

The formal call for a mass-meeting at Cooper Union next Wednesday night to open a campaign to rid the city of gambling and other forms of lawlessness was issued today. Besides the prominent men heretofore named as leading the movement, among them Jacob H. Schiff, Lyman Abbott, Hamilton Holt, Darwin B. James, William Loeb, Jr., Horace White and Professor Felix Adler, the call includes four women—Mrs. C. H. Mackay, Mrs. W. H. Baldwin, Jr., Mrs. C. H. Isaacs and Mrs. Maude E. Minor. A memorandum which accompanied the call says:

"Protection of life and property is the basic duty of government. Recent developments show a degree of lawlessness that vitally threatens the community.

"It is apparent to any one who has followed the course of events that a reasonable connection again exists between some elements of the police and organized crime. It is essential that every citizen or official having any information of value concerning present conditions shall be encouraged to make these facts known. In the confidence that he will be protected against terrorism and oppression. Such confidence can be inspired only by the expression of the present overwhelming public sentiment through a movement of the character contemplated by the proposed mass-meeting."

Ambulance Calls.

A. T. Lannahan, 507 North Twenty-fifth Street, while at work in the factory of the Columbia Shoe Company yesterday received a call from the back of the hand, severing the tendon of the thumb. He was attended by Dr. Hawkins, of the city ambulance, who carried him to the City Home and performed an operation. His hand will be saved unless complications arise.

Dr. Hawkins also treated A. M. Nobles, of Gordonville, who in leaving the elevator at the Main Street Station yesterday afternoon, his foot caught in the elevator and was injured, but not dangerously.

SHOT WAS HEARD BY PROSECUTOR

Believed It Unwise, However, to Go on Stand as Witness.

Atlanta, Ga., August 8.—Solicitor-General Hugh M. Dorsey, who prosecuted Mrs. Daisy Grace on the charge of shooting her husband, declared today that he heard a shot fired at the Grace home early on the morning of March 2 while lying abed at his home across the street. Mrs. Grace told the jury which acquitted her that the shooting occurred after 11 o'clock in the morning. Mr. Dorsey said he was sure it was not later than 6 o'clock when he heard the shot. Mr. Dorsey said he did not go on the witness stand and tell of hearing the shot because eminent lawyers had advised him that, inasmuch as he was prosecuting Mrs. Grace, such a course would have been unwise. Besides, he could not swear that it was on the morning of March 2, although he is certain in his own mind now. His reason for making the statement at this late day, after deciding that it should not be known, he said, was that fragments of the story were being circulated, and he feared that they would be distorted in the retelling.

Grace was brought to Atlanta today from his home in Newnan to undergo an X-ray examination. His physicians will decide whether to operate in the hope of removing the bullet, which is pressing against the spinal cord and causing paralysis from the waist down.

Bossy a Drunkard

Washington, D. C., August 8.—The death of a dog is the latest discovery by the Department of Agriculture.

A Virginia husbandman, alarmed by the inappropriate performances of an ordinarily perfectly wild animal after munching a ration of ensilage, appealed to the sharps of the department.

Investigation revealed that bossy had feasted on fermented cornstarch and had simply gotten drunk on raw bourbon whiskey—that was all.

IN THE WAKE OF THE GAME

By Gus Malbert.

Somewhat or other the game yesterday, directed horribly. Just why this should have been nobody seems able to say. Interest is keyed to the highest possible pitch, and that the crowd wanted a ball game was evidenced by the fact that the crowd was out. One of the reasons is that Harry Brooks is one powerfully and the crowd wanted a ball game was evidenced by the fact that the crowd was out. But that is not the only cause. The men were listless, and Umpire Reynolds failed to keep them on the move.

Mr. Reynolds will have to improve a whole lot. His weather eye may have been dulled yesterday, but he missed pretty nearly every strike which came over. He stopped rallies by both clubs by calling men out on strikes, when the ball thrown was pretty nearly on the ground. Burke was called out in this way in the fifth, when he had an opportunity to score in the eighth. Following right after that Burke was called out almost the same way, while Barnett suffered in the second.

How those kids did root. It was good to hear them, for the grandstand, until the game was safely tucked away. Kids as much as a general. "That boys' day" gas has made a hit. They came out in catcalls, wagons, automobiles and everything movable. Pretty nearly 1,000 of them were on hand, and they rained in color from the fair Saxon to the ebony-hued descendants of Ham.

Buch nearly made a merry-go-round of his punning equipment yesterday why he selected one of his slowest men to start. Brooke couldn't possibly hold out with the ball he was working, while a speedy man, Creiger, for instance, even though he was bumped finally, might have looked pretty good. But no such luck. After Brooke and Creiger had been disposed of Morganthau was called upon. He couldn't be effective, and so Blackstone struck the game, and finished in very good style.

Mace's drive in the fifth, 6-m which he scored, was straight at Brooke, and went through him, hitting Reynolds a nasty crack on the shin.

Even though the game became intensely interesting towards the dusk, there was not as much good ball playing as one will see on an average day. It was simply that the breaks all came to Richmond toward the finish, and Griffin may well thank the gods of chance that he won.

Mrs. Griffin declares that she is responsible for the victory. After it was all over she modestly proclaimed that she was praying every minute from the time the first ball was thrown until the knell in the seventh.
